McCULLIN CUP WINNER -- Judge Don G. Humble holds the McCullin Citizenship award presented him during ceremonies at the annual Cameron Chamber banquet Thursday night. Active in church, Scout and civic work, Humble is county judge. Looking on is John Connally, former Secretary of the Navy, who was principal banquet speaker. The Cup presentation was made by Dr. S. H. Richardson, the 1960 recipient.

Quick Trip: Escapee Draws 25 Years For Breaking Jail

Connally Praises Nation's Military

John Connally, former Secretary of the Navy, Thursday night praised the deterrent strength of U. S. military might and said the spitting of the atom changed the course of history.

He addressed a capacity crowd of some 350 Chamber leaders, wives, guests and out-of-town press at Methodist Fellowship Hall. His non-political speech followed presentation of the McCullin Citizenship Award to Judge Don G. Humble and a review and preview of Chamber activities by outgoing president Richard Williams and incoming President E. O. Schiller, Jr.

PREDICTED INCREASE

Connally predicted that next year's military budget would reach $53 billions in sustaining a U. S. military establishment of Polaris subs, nuclear-powered ships, jet aircraft and manpower. He said that U. S. military services now represent the most powerful aggregation in the world.

He was introduced by John B. Henderson, Jr., Cameron attorney. Other introductions were made by Milton Schiller, Cameron businessman, who announced visitors from 21 Texas cities and towns. And Williams introduced First Vice President O. B. Harden and Second Vice President Jack Prescott and 32 directors, eight of them going off the 24-man board.

In the main speech of the evening, Connally described the American military organization "as unbelievably complicated."

PRASED LEADERS

Connally was quick to cite the patriotism of American military men and acknowledge the brilliance and leadership of Sec. of Defense Robert McNamara, former president of Ford Motor Co., and other civilian defense leaders and the service chiefs of staff.

"The Navy Department has $15 billion budget alone," Connally said. He recently resigned his post as Navy Secretary prior to announcing as a gubernatorial candidate.

Connally noted the significance the Defense Department places on research, spending $6.5 billion annually for development of new equipment.

He listed the rapid development of Polaris subs, work on the super-sonic B-70 and other current weapons, including a nuclear-powered aircraft carrier.

"I can't see any reasonable hope for the diminution of its cost if we are to maintain the present establishment," Connally frankly stated. In fact, he predicted a $3 billion increase over the current $50 billion budget.

"We should recognize the change in history since the splitting of the atom," Connally summarized. "Times are changing and should recognize, but not fear these changes."

'TALK CAMERON UP'

President Schiller urged "talking Cameron up" in his acceptance remarks and presented Williams with a plaque for his service as Chamber president. Williams cited the location of new dairy operation and opening of a Cameron rest home during the past year and urged the need "for more people selling Cameron."

Dr. S. H. Richardson, 1960 McCullin Award winner, presented Humble with the Citizenship Cup. The County Judge has been active in church, scouting and civic work for years here.

A wind ensemble presented two numbers for the banquet group. And Max McClaren, Cameron elementary school principal, provided organ dinner music.

Invocation was given by the Rev. Jewel Strong, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Cameron. Francis Cox, 1959 McCullin winner, directed the ensemble.

"During five years with RCA at Canaveral, he never discussed his work."

That statement perhaps describes the intricate, top secret efforts of Roger W. Stephens, communications officer, son of Mrs. Bess Stephens, 801-A North Lamar.

Even when Mrs. Stephens visited him in Florida, she never knew what her son, a retired Air Force officer, was doing those years.

But now she and the rest of the world know the reason he was non-committal.

It was the efforts of men like Roger Stephens that made possible the intricate net work of electronic controls that kept Astronaut John Glenn in touch with the world as he orbited around it.

"His work is strictly secret," Mrs. Stephens told a Herald reporter. "He never discussed anything in connection with his work or what transpired during the day."

"He went to a number of service schools," Mrs. Stephens said. "I can't remember them all."

Stephens is working with Radio Corporation of America both at Eagan, Florida's Patrick Air Force Base and at Cape Canaveral.

There were communications ships and stations all around the world, maintaining contact on Glenn's flight. And it was all connected to Mercury Center at the Cape.

Exactly how or what Stephens and hundreds of not thousands of others in his field did is not so important now. It is certain they did it well.

Searchers Find Duo Near Hoyt

One of Cameron's two jail escapees is on his way to the State Penitentiary after being sentenced in Milam District Court to 25 years Monday.

Harvey Alvin Forester, 34, of Sparks, drew the 25-year term after he and Weldon Shafer, recently indicted for forgery, were apprehended by authorities in the Hoyt area.

Officials said the two men were apprehended by noon last Thursday after sawing their way out of Milam County Jail the night before.

Sheriff Carl Black was out on a call and later returned to find Forester, who was charged with armed robbery, and Shafer gone. SAWED BARS

County Atty. Jack Prescott reported the men sawed out some window bars of their second-story cell, tied blankets together and slid down the side.

They were seen sometime early Thursday morning, Prescott said, in the vicinity of Hoyt east of Cameron. Sheriff Black, his deputies, a Texas Ranger, Sheriff's officials from Bryan, state troopers and a team of bloodhounds went into action.

Black spotted one of the men, later identified as Shafer, early Thursday and he was caught at mid-morning.

Bloodhounds and trainer from the Gatesville School for Boys traced Forester down about noon. Both men were returned to custody in Milam Jail.

FIRST IN 3 YEARS

It was the first jail break since some men broke out twice about three years ago.

Forester, charged recently with armed robbery of four men in Cameron, was awaiting appearance before a Milam Grand Jury. A second man, 20-year-old, Alvin W. Lueck, had already made bond upon being charged with the same robbery.

Shafer was indicted by a Milam Grand Jury in February for check forgery. He awaits trial, officials said.

Legion Announces Committees For Convention Here

Committee assignments were announced this week for the 11th District Convention of the American Legion April 29 at National Guard Armory, Cameron.

John Zarosky, post commander of Cameron's Post No. 9, announced the following appointments

Ed Manning, chairman of registration and dance committee; Leo Laake and Dean White, refreshment committee; Henry Dreyer and Sam Atkinson, convention decorations and chairs; August Kuntz, coffee and doughnuts for Sunday morning registration; Leslie Brueggen and Ralph Michalka, colors and color bearers; Ed Kohutek and LaVert McKinney, food and serving committee.

Zarosky asked that all committees meet 2 p. m. Sunday at the National Guard Armory to make further convention plans.

Cameron Man Sees Glenn Board Pickup Ship USS Noa

When John Glenn sizzled into the Atlantic, the USS Noa pulled him and Friendship 7 from the sea.

And Cameron's Leo Glaser, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Glaser, Sr., was a crewman of the ship he described to his family "the most famous ship in the world."

That was three weeks after Glenn's triple orbit, people will remember their relief when the U. S. astronaut stepped onto the destroyer's deck.

Young Glaser, a 1958 graduate of Yoe High School, was there to greet him.

A letter to his family says: "Yes, I saw Glenn and even said a few words to him. We picked him up out of the water and you should have seen that little capsule he was in. All it had was buttons and switches."

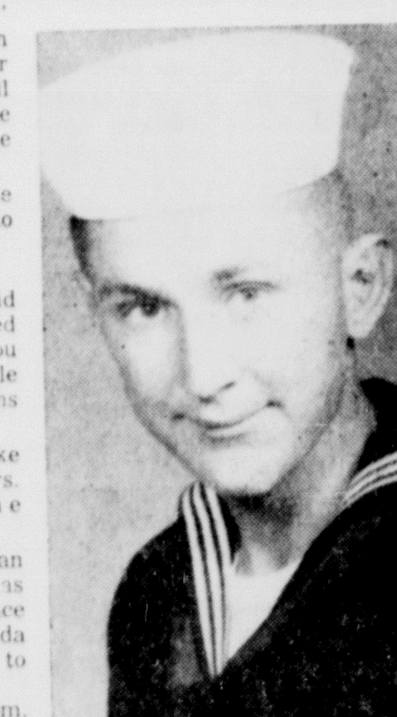

"The press was here to take pictures and so were the doctors. It was an exciting day for the crew."

And then the Cameron seaman described the astronaut. "He was really something to see in his space suit. We took him to Bermuda and from there they took him to the States."

Glaser continued: "Yes, Mom, we picked up John Glenn. He talked to the crew and told us how it was up there in the air going around the world. He said it was quite an experience." With that bit of understatement Glaser promised two more letters were on the way, describing details of landing Noa's historic passenger.

Unabashedly proud, he inscribed the first page of his letter:

Leo Glaser, Jr. . . .
Aboard 'Space Man
Pickup Ship'

"The Space Man Pickup Ship." The Navy thought enough of the Noa's successful race to rescue Glenn to give ship and crew a brass band welcome at Port Mayport.

He describes it: "They had a band on the pier with majorettes and all the big wheels from the surrounding community."

Crewmen and ship's officers have received letters from all over the world, writes Glaser, noting, "We were on TV and radio all the week (March 9)."

And that's not all. There was a citation to each officer and crewman. It gave the 21-year-old Cameron seaman reason to send it home.

"The Commanding Officer takes great pleasure in commending the officers and men of this command on the occasion of achieving the recovery of 'Friendship 7' by Mercury Space Capsule, piloted by Lieutenant Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr., USMC."

"Through your professional ability and 'can do' spirit, you played a vital role in this historical operation and attained a 'First' for Noa. This distinction reflects your outstanding performance of duty. You are commended for your operational competence, smartness and devotion to duty which resulted in the making of Naval History this date."

By FML

The Herald takes on a dimension this week unprecedented within its own columns.

Coincidence has played an ironic part in bringing within one issue three points of Astronaut John Glenn's historic flight.

We find that natives or offspring of residents of the Milam area played key roles in Glenn's venture into space. They, indeed, assisted this nation into a new era. And one young man was aboard the destroyer that outraced others to pick him up.

There is Ann Bowman's description of Berlin, its ominous wall and humorous insights only a teenager could find.

There is a jailbreak, the fourth in the last three years, from Milam's quaint, castle-like jail. And there is quick justice for the man who climbed out of his redbrick confinement.

And finally, a speech by a former Secretary of the Navy crams as much localized national interest as one weekly could hope to find in eight columns of type and pictures.

102 - 102 - 102

It could all be melodramatic, and perhaps it is. It could be success for an experiment in weekly journalism, which we hope it is. The element that kept John Glenn from weightless death in space or from flashing into infinity upon reentry brought these stories together. It was chance.

Regardless of the cause, the effect is a unique effort of putting local people into an international spectrum in "your own back yard."

With only this and another issue before The Herald reaches its 103rd year, we think you, Milam readers, deserve the effort. It may not be our good fortune to find similar material.

Models To Space Ships

Yardley Modest In Role

A Staff Feature SECOND IN A SERIES

What is he like . . . the man who designed the capsule Friendship 7 and became close friends with its illustrious passenger, John Glenn?

The question is inevitable for a man like John Yardley, 37, who became a technical legend when Glenn completed his flight and drifted safely down to tranquil waters of the Atlantic.

He is also the son of native Milam Countians, now residents of Tucson, Arizona. They are Mr. and Mrs. Finley A. Yardley, he, the son of the late Ben Arnold postmaster R. F. Yardley, and she, a former school teacher in Ben Arnold.

Young Yardley, an engineer with McDonnell Aircraft, sounds like an unassuming Texan who happened to be born in a foreign place, St. Louis. That is where his folks moved years ago so that his father could play baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals.

MODEL BUILDER

He is a man grown from a boy that built model airplanes. He is the man who fashioned the first model of Friendship 7 out of a bar of soap, his mother told a reporter for the Tucson Daily Citizen.

The bright aeronautical engineer directed secret sessions for two years, designing the capsule. It won over other competition and he and his team went to Cape Canaveral, Florida, to make it work.

The world knows of his success. And, as it happened, John Glenn successfully toured the globe three times, 150 miles high, 80,000 miles around, only to be picked up by the Destroyer USS Noa carrying a Cameron youth, Leo Glaser, Jr., who helped the astronaut aboard. But that is the subject of another story.

The Arizona Sun, another Tucson newspaper, reports that Yardley was the "member of his particular team who was thrown into a swimmingpool when Alan Shepard's suborbital flight came off successfully.

KNOWS ASTRONAUTS

Says The Citizen: "Yardley, married and the father of four children, is a friend of Glenn's and the other astronauts. A seven-foot model of the Mercury -- made in celebration of the first flight -- was kept in his livingroom until it was given to Commander Shepard."

Quite an unassuming fellow, says The Citizen, Yardley still "holds a passion for making model airplanes he first had as a 10-year-old boy."

"He travels around the country and enters these gasoline engine model aircraft contests," his sister told a Tucson reporter. "And he has a hobby shop at his home at Cape Canaveral."

"He's also a ham radio operator which he thinks will help him in his work," his mother told reporters.

When asked about all the hurry for a moon shot, he told his mother: "We have to keep up or be left behind. It was like the exploration of the West. If we hadn't had people who were interested in the West, it never would have been civilized."

Unwary by all this, Yardley's son once broke his arm and all the astronauts autographed the cast.

Notes The Star: "The price-less relic was discarded when the arm mended, like any old cast, just as though it didn't have Glenn's Shepard's and Grissom's names on it."

To be sure, the senior Yardley doesn't need their autographs.

County Agents Notes

Barrow Wins In Demonstration

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

A 225 pound Hampshire barrow sired by John Parmelee of Rockdale yielded the highest carcass score last week at the Area Swine Demonstration. The Hampshire barrow's score was 71.8 dressing percent, 29.6 inches carcass length, 1.36 inches back fat, 4.46 square inches of loin eye, 55.1 percent lean cuts to carcass weight to earn a value of lean cuts of $21.24 per 100 pounds.

Other placings in order were: Steve Polzer of Cameron with a Duroc - Landrace cross; Marcel Walker of the Sharp Community with a Berkshire; Henry Richter of Cameron, Duroc barrow; Dr. Walter Smith of Marlin, 5th and 6th with a Duroc and a Yorkshire barrow. A complete score on all the hogs entered is available at the county agents office.

The 11th annual Swine Short Course will be held at Texas A & M College, April 2-3. T. D. Tanksley, Jr., Extension Swine Specialist, says the program will be the kind that swine producers just can't afford to miss.

A breeding and selection program will be explained which could mean more pigs per litter; more pork produced on less feed and a higher quality carcass at slaughter time.

This program is for the benefit of local swine breeders and they are encouraged to attend.

SUMMER TEMPORARY PASTURES

Need more forage for your milk or beef herd? You might do well to consider supplying this with summer temporary pastures.

Ted Trew, Extension pasture specialist at Texas A & M College says you can produce better quality forage and more beef or milk per acre than with permanent pastures. It also permits resting your permanent pasture or range.

Temporary pastures may be planted anytime after danger of frost is past, Trew says. He suggests planting in rows for more grazing. For hay, the pastures may be broadcast or close drilled. Crops planted and top dressed each time it is grazed down or cut. Trew suggests a soil test to determine amounts of fertilizer.

As to what to plant, Trew suggests sudan, sudan - sorghum hybrids, or pearl millet. Your county agent can give local recommendations and publications on these summer grazing crops.

EGG MONTH

March is National Egg Month. Supplies of this top food are plentiful and prices favorable.

Hints Offered On Lawn Care From A & M Specialist

COLEGE STATION — Want to have a beautiful lawn this summer? Now is the time to start planning for it. E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says you need to watch all management factors because neglecting one may keep you from having an attractive lawn.

Fertilizer should be applied according to soil test recommendations. You can, however, use a sufficient amount of a complete fertilizer to supply two pounds of nitrogen per 1000 square feet. Whichever method you choose, the fertilizer should be applied about the time the grass begins to grow. This should be done again in the fall, 30 days before frost, says Trew.

Throughout the summer, at 30 to 40 day intervals, the lawn should be topped with nitrogen at the rate of one pound per 1000 square feet.

Another thing that will detract from lawn beauty is the presence of weeds. One of the best defenses against weeds is a thick, vigorous growth of grass. Weeds can also be controlled with chemicals. For chemical recommendations and application rates, ask your county agent for a copy of L-425, "Chemical Weed Control on Lawns."

Lawns should also be mowed regularly, pointed out Trew. Bermudagrass should be kept at a height of about 1 to 1½ inches and St. Augustine and bluegrass at about 1½ to 2 inches. No more than one inch should be removed at a time.

Lawns should be watered when the grass begins to wilt, says Trew. Then they should be soaked to a depth of 6 inches or more.

If you start now and continue managing your lawn through the summer, you can be the envy of the neighborhood. Local county agents can supply additional information on lawn management and care.

Milam ASCS

Report

By Milam County ASCS

Revised cotton acreage notices were mailed to cotton farmers in this county this week. The figure on these notices is the cotton allotment for this year and planter cotton acreage should not exceed this figure.

Holders of soil bank conservation reserve contracts are reminded again, as spring grass begins to make a showing, that grazing is prohibited on all soil bank conservation reserve land and such unauthorized grazing is a violation of the soil bank conservation reserve contract.

Wool producers are again reminded that March 21 is the deadline for sale of shorn wool and shorn lambs for 1961 incentive payments and the deadline for making application and submitting receipts for such sales is the last day of April.

Payments to producers for the 1961 wool marketing year will follow the same methods used in previous years. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage — to be announced later — will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool during the marketing year up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

A reminder to feed grain producers — March 30 is the deadline for signing an intention to participate in the 1962 feed grain program.

WATER PROBLEM
When water in stock troughs, reservoirs or ponds is exposed to sunlight, it may become covered with algae commonly called green scum or slime. One method for removing the algae is to treat the water with bluestone, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Rogers FFA In

Judging Contests

ROGERS — The Rogers High School Chapter of the FFA has some busy weekends coming up with judging contests, according to an announcement of J. H. Merka chapter advisor and teacher of vocational agriculture.

About fifteen boys went to A & M College Wednesday practice judging. On March 24, 15 to 20 boys will go to Southwest State College at San Marcos to an Invitation Contest of judging; a smaller team of boys will be in Ft. Worth March 31 at the Area contest.

On April 7, nine boys will constitute the team of judges in Area VIII at John Tarleton State College at Stephenville.

Billy Schigut On

California Base

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (FHN) — Billy P. Schigut, hospital corpsman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Schigut of 306 Yale St., Cameron, is serving at the Naval Missile Facility America's first orbiting astronaut, Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., was tracked by various radar devices.

COTTON REPORT

Trading in the spot markets continued slow. Spot prices were firm for qualities of good character. Shipper buying was small and selective. Domestic mills were not too active. Interest from abroad remained fair to good. Land and seedbed preparation made good progress. Cotton planting in the Valley moved at a rapid pace.

Unseasonably cool weather prevailed most of the week. Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy. No moisture of any material benefit was reported. Farming activities have made good progress. Land and seedbed preparation is satisfactory. Most all sections could use a good general rain. Stands were generally good. Plant growth was slow but color was satisfactory. With short planting moisture dryland producers were delaying planting. Cotton planting in the Corpus Christi area was slow due to lack of sufficient moisture in most sections.

REPORTABLE DISEASES

Reportable diseases in Milam County for the week ending March 10, 1962 were 15 strep throat, three mumps and one measles, according to Dr. T. E. Crump, County Health Department.

TELEPHONE TALK

ABOUT YOUR TELEPHONE BILL.

We know how important it is to you that the bill you receive from us for your telephone service each month is correct. And we try very hard to see that it is always right.

Most calls are billed with the help of marvelous new electronic machines. These machines help us to hold down our cost of billing — which means holding down the price you pay for telephone service. It would be almost impossible to do the whole billing job by hand.

Though our electronic machines are almost miraculous in their speed and accuracy, it is still possible, once in a while for something to go wrong. For that reason we have dependable telephone people checking and double-checking the bills at every key point in the process.

In the telephone business, we combine machines and people for the utmost accuracy in your telephone bill. Like any other part of your telephone service we are always looking for new ways to improve it while holding down the price you pay.

TELEPHONE MONTH

March is a most significant month for telephone people. It marks the anniversary of two important dates in telephone history.

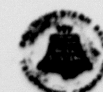

On March 3, 1847, Alexander Graham Bell was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. Twenty - nine years later, on March 10, 1876, in Boston, he made the first telephone work. After its invention, it took just a few years for the telephone to travel as far as Texas. Our first telephone exchange was opened in Galveston in August 1879.

Since that time, telephone service has grown, until today there are more than 75 million telephones in the United States. They carry more than 290 million calls each day.

On this 86th anniversary of the invention of the telephone, our goal is the same as it was on March 10, 1876 — to make your telephone service more valuable, more dependable and more useful to you every day.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

David Reichert Wins 'Dream' Job

David Reichert will spend the summer in California on seed magazine David Burpees' Fordhook Farm as a result of a casual conversation between the two a few weeks ago in Austin.

David, a senior at Stephen F. Austin High, Austin, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reichert, former Cameron residents.

The 18 year old student for microscopes and math said the offer came as a complete surprise. He met David when the young scientist sat in on a press conference. The two talked about genetics and plant mutations, but Burpee became particularly interested when David told him about his experiment with seedless watermelons.

The summer job offer was made later through a letter from Burpee to American - Stateman Garden Editor Clare Ogden David inquiring if David might be interested.

A former student at the Texas A & M Science Seminar, David had one of the top entrants in the 1961 National Science Fair.

He spends 15 hours a week with microscopes and test tubes at the University of Texas Genetics Institute where, among other chores he is comparing the chromosome differences between American and Europe fruit flies.

While in California this summer, David plans to visit his older brother, John, who is doing graduate work in physics at the California Institute of Technology.

Mrs. Frank Schiller Speaks To Club

Mrs. Frank Schiller made a lecture on Wild Flower Conservation to the Civic Garden Club on March 8.

Mrs. W. R. Newton Sr. was hostess for the meeting.

"A united, natural contribution of soil, temperature and moisture accounts for the abundance of Wild Flowers in Texas," Mrs. Schiller stated. A special workshop to make corsages is to be held April 11 at 2 p. m. Mrs. J. J. Heitman is hostess. Corsages made will be presented to the ladies for their tea on April 12 to be held at 3:30 p. m. in the basement of the First Christian Church.

The club membership was recommended that its annual Plant Exchange is scheduled for April 11.

Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray
GETTING AROUND:

Since that spurious New York Columnist threw a scare into the official Southwest conference family we are certain to witness a long-needed tightening of restrictions on the men in stripes.

Taylor, prolific producer of football talent, will be high on the Southwest market again come fall. The school which produced All-America Dick Moegle, may produce two of the All - SWC Eleven. Gene Ruez, a blue - steel Rice end, is a virtual cinch and there are whispers that Donnie Smith, the TCU halfback who helped beat Texas, may be the best running halfback in the loop.

Get down the names, Stautzenberger and Dillon, for the future book GUY DILLON, 195 - pound Cameron guard, has opened Hank Foldberg's eyes at Aggeland and Gary Stautzenberger, 230-pound Seguin freshman, is making his presence felt in University of Texas spring training.

Did you know that one of Texas' strongest linemen in many moons is Hondo's George Brucks, one of Darrell Royal's soph stars against Mississippi?

Lee Walker, the 6-7 Three Rivers lad with blue - chip grades, will be an important cog in Texas Aggie basketball next winter.

CUNNINGHAM IS BEST
Dillon Littlefield, a man who's been involved with Southwest track training.

Brutten, Mees, Laake, Lead In Cam - Roc League

Barbara Brutten, 483, Irene Mees 481 and Marie Laake 472 were high scorers for Cam - Roc League bowlers last week.

Irene Mees 202, Frances Villines 185 and Barbara Brutten 180 were high scorers in game individuals.

Minimax rolled high series team score of 2205 followed by Farm and Ranch 2171 and Greens 2135. Farm and Ranch 783, Coffield 770 and Minimax 768 were high for single game team.

Baptist WMU Has

Meeting; Party For

Mrs. W. H. Fraizer

Mrs. W. H. Ezzell and Mrs. C. R. Criswell were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ezzell for a meeting of the Baptist WMU during the Week of Prayer.

The program, directed by Mrs. H. L. Glover, featured scripture reading and a sing - song of favorite hymns by the group.

A farewell tea followed the program honoring Mrs. W. H. Fraizer who is moving with her family this week to Copperas Cove.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over pink and held crystal candelabras entwined with ivy and pink rose buds.

Mrs. Edwin Gandy poured coffee and Mrs. Johnny Balusek served the party plates. Mrs. Ezzell presented the honoree with a silver tray, a gift from the group.

Approximately 45 guests were present.

Cameron CYO Ends

Volleyball Season

With Two Wins

The Cameron CYO completed the annual volleyball season by defeating the Bryan St. Anthony's and Cyclone teams. Both Cameron boys and girls lost only one game during the season.

The CYO monthly meeting was held March 7. Guest speaker for the evening was Coach John Roberts from Yoe High. He spoke on the difference between defeat and failure.

Activities planned for the month are a skating party, a bake sale Saturday, a Hayride and Cookout March 20 and the Community Crusade March 18 through 24.

EYEWITNESS

us all about the church in East Germany, and that it is almost impossible now to be in the church. It is not forbidden, but they just make it so there are so many things that you have to do for the state that you just don't have time for the church too. Then you don't get any state financing; you aren't allowed to go to the universities if you don't support the party.

Then Ann describes seeing the opera, "Aida" in the City Theatre in Berlin. "It was just beautiful," she said. "We just got a big thrill out of it."

The next day Ann's group met General Clay. "We even got some pictures," she exclaimed. "And that night we went to another jazz cellar where we saw the typical night life in Berlin, without tourists."

Later Ann and her student group had an interview with a burgo-master, a socialistic, not communistic, mayor. "This man was in Texas for 15 years," Ann said, "and he is nicknamed 'Texas Willy' He was very interesting. I can't go into all the details, mainly because I can't translate it into English." (Ann has become fluent in conversational German).

WALL DEPRESSING
In the final moments of her tape, Ann describes the most dramatic of all.

"The last afternoon, we had a tour of the Wall - which was depressing. One of the best things I saw were these radio cars with loudspeakers that stay right on the border and broadcast as loud as they can into the East Zone, telling them how it is in West Berlin and West Germany."

"The Wall is one or two yards tall and sometimes is lined with glass, pieces of glass, six inches high - stuck in the wall - and so thick that no one could get through. Other places there is barbed wire on top of the wall. It was just terrible!" "The houses that were along the border were all concreted in with cement blocks where no one could get out. And then, there were graves, or memorials, where people had jumped from perhaps four or five stories high trying to escape into West Berlin before they were concreted in."

190 Visit Ben Milam

During School Week

Approximately 190 parents, visitors and interested citizens visited Ben Milam School during Public School Week, according to Supt. Max McClaren.

Displays of school work from the first, second and third grades were present for view along with a special education class. A large number of parents were guests of their children in the school cafeteria during the noon meal.

McClaren stated that the visitation record and interest during Public School Week was very successful this year. He urged all school patrons to visit school anytime of the year.

Schools Adopting 'America' Program

Are our children being taught a love of country and the democratic system? It's a frequently debated question this year.

H. D. Maxwell, county school superintendent and Mrs. Ruby Arledge, supervisor, have adopted a program for Milam County schools which would provide every child with a thorough knowledge of, and respect for America and Democracy.

The program "American Heritage" was initiated by the Texas Bureau for Economic Understanding and adopted by the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Grass roots test of the program was made in the Lampasas schools and the Milam County outline for study was produced following an examination of that school's works. By Supt. Maxwell and Mrs. Arledge.

The study is a year - round emphasis to be taught not as a special subject, but in all grades and in every subject. It's success is dependent on the initiative of the individual teacher.

Supt. Maxwell and Mrs. Arledge have made available to every teacher and administrator in Milam County a 65 - page outline of basic principles, concepts, objectives, methods of presentation and suggested activities for each learning level.

The eight basic principles incorporated in the outline are:

1. Private ownership of property
2. Importance of the individual
3. Trust in God, as we understand Him.
4. Freedom of the individual
5. The Profit Motive
6. Dignity of Work
7. Competition
8. Government as Protector, not provider.

A key to the program is listed in the objectives which hope "to achieve the ability to defend intelligently the American value system and the democratic way of life."

Stressing the dignity of work and creating within the student a desire to compete with perfection, the outline gives suggested activities including the American Heritage program throughout school work in music, science, language arts, vocational, social studies, homemaking, mathematics, business, as well as extra curricular club work.

Examples of how the outline suggests incorporating the program in seemingly unrelated studies are: problems on profit and loss in mathematics and a study of scientific contributions to man by free Americans in science classes.

In the Cameron Independent Schools, emphasis is placed on the national heroes, holidays and patriotic songs, according to Max McClaren, Ben Milam principal. J. R. Underwood, Yoe High Principal stressed that the high school was concentrating on giving a firm foundation to its students through accurate American history, unclouded by popular fable, Underwood, McClaren and Ada Henderson Principal Arley Attaway, all pointed out that good citizenship, an important part of the Heritage program, has been featured throughout the school year.

BREAKDOWN OF OUTLINE
At the primary level, grades 1, 2, and 3, emphasis is on citizenship with privileges and responsibilities in the family, school and community. Primary children are taught that America was founded by people of religious faith and an appreciation of national heroes.

Intermediate grades 4, 5, and 6 again stress citizenship but expand it in relation to community, state and nation. Building a firm foundation, great men who have contributed to our freedom are studied. Emphasis is placed on the fact that faith in God and man are basic to our democratic way.

The outline at this level suggests relating the importance of different cultures and people working

Rural Ministers At A&M College For Discussion

Father John T. Geiser of Cameron and Father Leonard Buxkemper of Westphalia were recent visitors to Texas A & M College to discuss sociological and economic problems of small rural communities.

Texas A & M Agricultural Extension Service and Texas electric utility companies are sponsors of a community improvement program. Rural ministers, such as Rev. Buxkemper and Father Geiser, are interested in the program because of young people moving from their communities.

Both ministers expressed their feelings on the young couples and young families moving from their communities to larger towns and cities. Father Buxkemper noted that his plans are to reverse the trend and one way was by promoting a new community water system. The church is providing 100 acres of land for house building purposes.

A & M Officials expressed the efforts of Father Buxkemper and Father Geiser were examples of how rural churchmen throughout Texas are showing increased interest in the economic welfare of their area.

Mrs. Clark Hosts

HD Club Meet Tues.

Mrs. B. D. Clark was hostess Tuesday afternoon for the meeting of the Cameron HD Club.

Twelve members and five guests were presents. Guests were Mrs. Connie Cannon, Mrs. Pete Mikula, Mrs. Beatrice Angell, Mrs. Beverly Scott and daughter Stefania of Tyler.

Mrs. George Jones gave a talk on "The Hair, Its Formation, Care and Styling." Mrs. Pete Mikula gave a demonstration on cake demonstration.

Two new members of the club are Mrs. Connie Cannon and Mrs. Beatrice Angell.

Methodist Set Services For Following Week

The Rev. James Argue of Palestine will be the guest minister at daily services at the First Methodist Church here in Cameron beginning March 18.

Rev. Billy N. Triggs, former Cameron resident, will be in charge of the music for the week. He will also preach at the Sunday morning service.

These evangelistic worship services are a part of "Spiritual Renewal for Texas Conference Methodism." The goals of this program are to broaden the understanding of the meaning of the Lordship of Christ and the discipleship of his followers.

The services will begin on Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Starting with Monday, coffee, doughnuts and co-coa will be served at 7 a. m. and this will be followed at 7:15 a. m. with a worship and devotional service to be held in the Fellowship Hall.

The evening worship service will be held in the sanctuary of the church at 7:30 p. m. each night. Church officials have invited the public to attend these services.

Evaluation For

Milam Extension

Scheduled In May

The Negro Branch of the Milam County Extension Service is scheduled for an evaluation in May. The evaluation will be conducted by local and state Government officials of the Texas Extension Service.

The purpose of the evaluation is to analyze the county situation and existing programs, determine county - wide problems and solutions, provide an opportunity to make changes, in order to keep the program current and serving the greatest need of the people.

Community leaders, other agricultural agencies and local government officials will be asked to assist in making preparations for this timely analysis of the county program.

The Cameron Herald

Cameron, Texas

Dear Sir:

NOT ALL farmers prefer controls to low prices.

We would like to call your attention to the effect that increased price supports had on the dairy industry. Following is an example of how government manipulation of dairy price supports affected this industry: In 1960, the cost to the government was $150,000,000. In March, 1961, the price support of milk was increased slightly.

The increase support encouraged dairy farmers to expand and over-produce even more milk. In 1961, the cost to the government was $300,000,000; and it is expected to be $500,000,000 in 1962.

Now the Secretary of Agriculture is advocating complete and rigid controls of dairying in order to reduce dairy surplus and government expenditure. This program would make it virtually impossible for new dairy enterprise to be started in Milam County or within the boundaries of the United States.

The program which is being advocated would freeze milk production allotments as they are at present. If an increase in price support had this effect on milk production, is it not reasonable to assume that a reduction in the support price would remedy this problem of overproduction and still give the dairyman freedom to run his business without additional government control.

We feel the majority of dairy-men would not relinquish their freedom for 10 cents per hundred pounds of milk.

Sincerely,
Billie J. Ellis

Dear Mr. Tindall:

I would very much appreciate it, if it is at all possible, to obtain approximately 20 copies of the ad that you ran in a newspaper recently on your grand opening. My purpose in wanting this many copies is that I want to give one each to our salesmen to show to new accounts, as well as old accounts, what can be done with a little incentive.

I think this is a very good ad and I want to use same in future grand openings. Possibly, you can just contact the newspaper office and they will forward the copies on direct.

Your help will be greatly appreciated, and I hope to see you soon.

Talking Cameron Up...

"Talk Cameron up!"

That was the substance, summation and import of Chamber President E. O. Schiller's remark, upon his official acceptance of Cameron CofC presidency.

His observation deserves every Cameronite's support.

It is easy to belittle the old home town, because of something that happened or did not happen in the past.

But it is more worthwhile to point up the advantages of this community of 5,640 people and their town of some 122 years.

And there is a lot to point to with the same pride in Schiller's voice when he urged us to "talk Cameron up."

In five years, developments here have given the proud resident opportunity to note:

Construction of a new water filtration plant, a new city sewage disposal plant, two new churches, a new church meeting hall, a new armory, an expanded, modern bowling center, a new theatre, a new restaurant, dozens of new homes, two large feed storage facilities, a hospital, a major dairy operation, dozens of blocks of new streets and curbing, numerous new store fronts, a drive-in bank, a baseball diamond, a press box, a widened main artery on Fourth St., a new city jail, a telephone dial center, a 50-unit housing project, several gas stations, an enlarged post office, a rest home among others.

This does not include numerous remodeling projects on homes and businesses.

There are other developments that give rise to "talking Cameron up." One will be construction of Laneport Reservoir, just 20 miles from Cameron, west of San Gabriel.

Outgoing President Richard Williams cited the most recent location of the Stuart Dairy operation. Its location "should encourage us to be friendly and progressive," he said. "More people selling Cameron are needed."

And Schiller's urging modern merchandising, quest for improvement of agriculture and industry points up this attitude.

He also urged every business submitting the names of two manufacturing concerns they deal with to the Chamber. This is a plan that can be followed through.

But most important was urging Cameron to talk Cameron up. It will do a lot in arousing greater interest in a town that is proving its interest in self improvement.

The Audience Was There...

The overflow crowd at the Cameron Chamber of Commerce banquet indicates the respect surrounding cities have for Cameron as well as for the speaker, John Connally.

Twenty-one towns, and most of the press of Central Texas were represented.

We noted representatives from: Temple, Hearne, Baileyville, Bryan, Rockdale, Austin, Westover, Mass., Burnett, Bartlett, Rosebud, Thorndale, Dallas, Houston, Galveston, Port Neches, Taylor, Mart, Waco, Bremond and Floresville.

Confusion Exists In Race Here

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — State campaign headquarters for candidates for Congress — at - Large report that considerable confusion exists about this particular race.

Many voters seem to think that the various candidates for Congress — at - Large are running against present office holders. Namely the Congressman now representing the various Congressional districts in the State.

They are not!

This is a statewide race where in Texas gets an extra Congressman — representing all the people of Texas, not just a district.

This office is being created because the population of Texas has increased sufficient to entitle it to an additional representative in Washington.

The Texas Legislature has the right to re - district the state to provide for an extra Congressman. But the Legislature has not yet done so. Alternative therefore is to create a statewide position.

Therefore, the following candidates are competing against each other for this high post and not against any present office holder:

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY: Judge Woodrow Wilson Bean of El Paso; Manley Head of Austin; Warren G. Moore of Tyler; Joe R. Pool of Dallas; Charles H. Stevenson Jr. of Corpus Christi; Russell T. Van Keuren of Houston; and Phil Willis of Scurry.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY: Desmond Barry of Houston; Giles E. race is not without precedent in Texas. The same thing happened in 1952, Martin Dies was elected and served from 1952 to 1958.

THUNDER FROM THE TOP

When GOP's from all over the state gathered in Austin for the State Republican Executive Committee Monday, democratic pressure to hold primaries in every precinct was a topic of conversation.

Jim Leonard, GOP executive director, criticized the SDEC for urging county clerks to refuse to place Republican candidates on the November ballot unless the Republicans held a primary in every precinct. Leonard charged that it was the same as asking them to break the election laws.

He likened the democratic announcement to "Thunder from the top" and called the issue a tempest in a teapot and a compliment to the growth of his party in Texas.

TEXTBOOK CHOICES

Deadline For Filing Reached In Rogers School

ROGERS — The deadline was reached on filing for school trustee in the Rogers Independent School District at 5 p. m. Wednesday, with four men running for three places on the ballot.

All three incumbents are running, plus one other person. Placement of names on the ballot was determined from the Board's "Written Policies" which says the names of candidates for school trustee shall be placed on the ballot in the order in which they are given in writing equally to the Secretary of the Board or the Superintendent.

Therefore, the order shall be as follows on the April 7 ballot: C. O. Gunter, D. D. Ward, Anton Necas and Gordon L. Young.

Gunter, Ward and Necas are incumbents.

The election shall be held in the high school library with polls open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. with Mrs. Frank Poncik as judge and Miss Eunice Speer and Mrs. J. L. Aycock as clerks.

implementing the $4,000,000 plan to provide for Texas water and soil conservation, flood control, navigation, water supply and irrigation projects.

Federal agencies now have agreed that the Army Corps of Engineers and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation each will take on about $1,000,000,000 worth of dam and conveyance construction; local and state agencies will assume $1,000,000,000 worth of work; and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will handle $20,000,000 worth of small dam and soil conservation work.

Balance of the project is navigation, irrigation, recreation and local flood protection.

Agreement still needs approval at the Washington level, but for the first time in its history, Texas has a water plan and water agencies and engineers have come to an understanding on Texas' future water needs.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Takes A Look At Educational System And Then Backs Off In Fright

Dear editor:

I'll admit before I get started that some people will say a farmer hasn't got any business trying to solve the educational problem when he can't even solve the agricultural problem, but actually the very time to switch to some other problem is when you can't handle your own.

I read in a newspaper last night that educators have been looking closely at the educational system in this country and in a meeting in Chicago the other day an expert from the U. S. Office of Education said the traditional 12 years of public education should be increased to 14.

He said the reason is that 12 years is not long enough to prepare a boy or girl for modern life, even if they're going on to college.

"The present 12-year problem of elementary and secondary education is not strong enough for an era in which the body of man's knowledge doubles every 15 years," he explained.

I have been thinking this over and have come to the conclusion that this expert is wrong. The way I figure it, if the body of man's knowledge doubles every 15 years, a 14-year school period is far too short. If a boy learned everything there was to know in 14 years, the year after he graduated he's still have it to do all over again, as the body of knowledge would have doubled by then. Even if he stayed in school all his life and made 100 on every subject on every report card, he couldn't keep up and would die a comparatively ignorant man.

Also, if total knowledge doubles every 15 years, what about the teachers? If they don't stay in school themselves full time, 12 months a year, no time out for teaching, every 15 years they're 100 percent behind.

And also, when you consider the fact that knowledge is mounting up even on Saturdays and Sundays and during summers when kids aren't even in schools, you can see it's impossible for anybody to ever be truly educated for longer than possibly ten or fifteen minutes at a time.

In the future, I think I will stick with solving the farm problem.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Prison Study Shows County Crime Rate

Milam County has received a rating of 17.0 in a study of crime in Texas recently completed by Dr. R. C. Koeninger, director of the Dept. of Sociology, Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville.

The rating indicates that 60 counties of the state sent more persons for each 1,000 of its population to the Texas Prison System over a 40 year period from 1920 through 1959.

Milam county committed 495 persons to the prison during the period studied and ranks forty-third in the state for the number of persons committed during the 40 year period.

The study showed a total of 109,949 individuals were committed to the Texas Prison System during these 40 years.

The study was made by Dr. Koeninger, a sociologist and criminologist, to show the trends in prison commitments for the State and for each county in Texas.

"One third, or a total of 35,989 of those committed came from five counties in Texas," Koeninger said. "The five most populous counties, Harris with 12,943, Dallas, with 9,350; Bexar, with 5,322; Tarrant with 4,328 and El Paso with 4,046, send more persons to prison but this does not indicate that the population of these five counties are more criminal than other areas."

Koeninger bases his statement on the ratio of commitments to prison for each 1,000 persons over the 40 year period. "For example, Koeninger said, "El Paso county has committed a total of 21 persons for each 1,000 of its population over the 40 year period, while Harris county committed a total of 17 persons for each 1,000 of its population."

"I'll Give Myself."

The minister made his stirring appeal for people to give their money for "the cause of missions around the world."

A lad was among those who had listened attentively. When the offering plates were passed, he took one of them, placed it in the aisle and stood upon it. Then he said to the minister, "I do not have any money, so I'll give myself."

He grew to manhood, always remembering his promise. Eventually, he became a world renowned missionary and a translator of the Scriptures.

God has a purpose for every life. The secret of true greatness lies with self-surrender to His will for you.

Today, more than ever, the moral and spiritual needs of the people, near and far, need money; but most of all, they call for yourself. Will you, too, say, "I'll give myself"? God is listening for your answer.

"I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, 'Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?' Then said I, 'Here am I; send me.'"

Isaiah 6:8

Susie and Burnett Atkinson entertained with a dominoe party at their home Tuesday. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Jones of Rosebud, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Johnson and Dorinda of Cross Roads, Mr. and Mrs. Ed White, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Harwell, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Todd, Tom Stidham and Mrs. Rex Jones and Tish. Miss Ethel and Mrs. Nora McKinney spent Tuesday with their sister Mrs. Will Boswell in Waco. Mr. and Mrs. Verne Pentecost are spending a few days in Sour Lake this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stidham were Sunday afternoon guests of her cousin, Mrs. M. G. Cox in Cameron.

Julian Burnett is a patient in Newton Memorial Hospital in Cameron.

Rev. and Mrs. James Stanley of Ft. Worth were Sunday dinner guests of Susie and Burnett Atkinson.

R. K. Fontaine spent the weekend at his home here visiting his wife and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. McLerran of Houston spent Monday night with Mrs. R. K. Fontaine and Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Pentecost spent Wednesday with their son and daughter - in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Pentecost of Galena Park. They had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Claude Oglesby of Sour Lake.

Report Required On 1961 Sale Of Personal Home

In completing your income tax return, you are required to include in your gross income the profit on the sale of your personal residence. This profit is normally the difference between sales price less agent's commission and the purchase price of the house when you bought it. This additional income can, however, be postponed in the situation where you buy a new residence within a one-year period before or after the date on which you sell your old home. However, you postpone the payment of tax on the sale only if your new home costs as much or more than the price you received for your old house after deducting the agent's commission, selling expenses and the amount you spent to fix the house up for sale during the 90-day period before which the house was sold.

For example, if you paid $10,000 for your old house and sold it for $15,000 you made a profit of $5,000 on the sale. If you buy a new home within a year for $16,000 you report no profit on the sale of the old house. You must, however, reduce the cost of the new home for later sale purposes by the amount of the untaxed profit you received on the old home. Thus, your new home cost would be reduced $5,000 and would be valued at $11,000 for later sale purposes.

Assume the same facts except that you spent $500 fixing up your old house for sale within 90 days before selling it, and bought your new house for $13,000 rather than the $16,000 figure used in the example above. You would deduct the $500 from the $15,000 sale price to obtain the adjusted sales price. Inasmuch as the purchase price of the new house was less than the adjusted sales price of the old home, you would have to include the net difference of $1,500 as capital gain in your gross income. The value of your new house for subsequent sale purposes would then be reduced by $1,500 which is the difference between the total profit made on the sale of your old residence, ($5,000) and the amount you showed as income when you bought the new residence ($1,500).

Often you sell your old house in one year and don't buy a new one until the subsequent year. When this occurs, you should show the fact of sale in your tax return for the year of sale and indicate that you intend to buy a new house within the one-year period.

When you later purchase a new house and have gain to report because it cost you less than the adjusted sales price of the old house, you should amend your return for the year in which the old house was sold and report the proper amount of gain includible in income as a capital gain.

Where you desire to build a new house to replace the old house sold, you are entitled to these tax benefits as long as construction begins within the one-year period after the date of sale of the old residence and is completed within 18 months after the same date.
